The new Brunswick unit was eventually cleared to start making atorvastatin again in March of this year, although a ban was maintained on supplies from Mohali.

Yaz and Yasmin were marketed by Bayer as superior alternatives to other forms of birth control.